

Faculty Award

for outstanding (online) teaching at the Faculty of Mathematics and Natural Sciences of the University of Potsdam

The Faculty Council of the Faculty of Mathematics and Natural Sciences at the University of Potsdam is offering a prize for special achievements in and around (online) teaching at the faculty.

All students of the faculty are invited to nominate teachers for this award until April 30, 2021. In addition, nominations by other teachers or self-nominations are also possible. A short justification for the nomination is required. Eligible for the award are activities that took place in the context of teaching at the Faculty of Mathematics and Natural Sciences of the University of Potsdam.

Three prizes will be awarded. A total of up to 6,000 € in prize money is available. The prize money is subject to the budgetary regulations of the state and can therefore not be paid to private individuals.

Selection must meet one or more of the following criteria:

1. outstanding commitment to teaching, especially with regard to a competency-based orientation of courses or development of creative approaches to online teaching
2. special commitment to the supervision of final theses
3. exceptionally committed and structured chairpersons of examination boards or chairpersons of study commissions
4. development of a particularly well-structured and custom-fit module or custom-fit implementation of teaching content in an online format or special commitment to the conception and structuring of a study program
5. conception of a module that contributes in an exemplary manner to the teaching of key competencies
6. special commitment to the support and supervision of students during the corona period

The jury appointed by the Faculty Council selects the prize winner from the proposals.

Proposals with a meaningful justification are to be sent to the Office of Studies and Teaching of the Faculty of Mathematics and Natural Sciences via the Student Councils:
